THE REGISTRY WILL STAND.

RIGHTS OF BROOKLYN VOTERS NOT AF-FECTED BY THAT BLUNDER.

An Opinion from the Corporation Counse that Last Tuesday's Registration is Legal, the Danish steamship Morse, which arrived Although Held on the Wrong Day-The in port yesterday, having in tow the Russian Election Board in Session-A Big Vote Expected as a Result of the Error. at sea in a helpless condition :

NXIETY was the dominant sentiment to-day with the members of the Board of Elections of Brooklyn, and they did some pretty hard thinking to find a way out of the predicament into which they got the city by ordering a session of the Boards of Registry in the 265 election districts on Tuesday last under the misapprehension that it was the day prescribed by the statute for the registration of voters for the November election.* They say that their Chief Clerk, Mr. Andrews, is entirely to blame. The Election law of 1884, as amended in 1886, prescribes that the days of registration shall be the last Tuesday of September, the second Tuesday in October and the Tuesday occurring two weeks before election. Election occurs "the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November." This year November begins on Tuesday, thus put-ting election day off to the furthest limits, the 8th. Last year it occurred on Nov. 4, and Chief Perry of the Board of Elections, says that Chief Clerk Andrews in compiling his registry lists from last year's books, issued his notices for the 18th because it seemed nearest to the date

Oct. 21. Chief Clerk Andrews declined to talk about the matter to-day, and, in fact, he and his force seemed to be afraid to give any inform-of the last registry in 1886, which feil on force seemed to be afraid to give any information to the reporters.

Corporation Counsel Almet F. Jencks held a consultation with Judges Pratt and Cullen of the Supreme Court. Both Justices were of opinion that no judicial settlement of the question of the legality of last Tuesday's registration could be obtained until some one with a grievance presented it to the Court. This could be done by having a Board of Registry strike off one of the names registered last Tuesday, when the voter whose name was stricken off could apply for a mandamus compelling its restoration.

when the voter whose hame was stricted of restoration.

This action was thought unnecessary, however, and to-day Corporation Counsel Jencks submitted his opinion to Mayor Whitney. It was in effect that the Board of Elections had made an undoubted error in fixing last Tuesday as a day of registry, but that the error did not vitiate the registry lists and those who has registered would be entitled to vote. However, this does not relieve the Boards of Registry from compliance with the law which fixes the Tuesday two weeks preceding the election on the last day of registry, and they must sit again at the several polification on the last day of registry. Was of the same opinion. He said: There can be no trouble unless some cantankerous inspector of election refuses the vote of some one who registered last Tuesday, and even then the trouble would only come to the inspector. It is absurd to suppose that the whole election in this great State would be vitiated by an error which will deprive no one of the opportunity to register, and it is equally absurd to suppose that any court would declare the election void because citizens acknowledged to be entitled to vote had been registered on a wrong day, through no fault of their own.

cause citizens acknowledged to be entitled to vote had been registered on a wrong day, through no fault of their own. Of course a defeated candidate might appeal to the courts on the ground of this irregularity, but unless he can show that voters were deprived of the right of franchise by it, or that men who were not legal voters had by it been permitted to cast their ballots, he would be thrown out of court. The registry is all right, and it is not at all necessary for those who appeared last Tuesday to go before the Boards of Registry again on next Tuesday."

The chairmen of the various Registry Boards made their reports to day to the Board of Elections, depositing a copy of the registry up to Tuesday night last, when they supposed their labors had ceased as Registrars. But each was informed that another day of registry must be had next Tuesday. Their returns show that 120,077 citizens have registered, the largest number ever recorded in the city except in 1884, when there were 127,000 voters on the lists. With an extra day the latterfigure should be outdone, and the result of the error of the Board of Elections may be cept in 1834, when there were 127,000 voters on the lists. With an extra day the latter figure should be outdone, and the result of the error of the Board of Elections may be that Brooklyn will cast a larger vote than ever before in her history.

At the headquarters of the Democratic Campaign Committee an Evenino World reporter was informed that the most eminent lawyers of the party would be consulted, and if they were of opinion that it was necessary, the working committee would take steps to get all Democratic voters who were registered last Tuesday to go again to the places of registry next Tuesday. The general opinion was that this would be unnecessary.

There is another phase of the matter which There is another phase of the matter which is not calculated to delight the taxpayers of Brooklyn. The places of registry were rented for four days: three for purposes of registration and one for the election. They were rented at a uniform rate of $5 a day, and the registrars also receive by law $5 per day for this service. An additional expense will therefore be saddled on the city of about $4,000 for the 700 registrars, $1,325 in rental for the places of registry, making a total extra cost to the city on account of the blunder of the Board of Elections of about $5,300. Clerk Andrews, on whom the blame is laid, is a Republican. He has been clerk of the Board of Elections twelve years.

publican. He has been clerk of the Board of Elections twelve years.

The Board of Elections is non-partisan. It is composed of Timothy Perry, President, and Charles H. Cotton, Republicans, and ohn Gilbertson, Democrat, who were appointed by Mayor Low, and Thomas V. Porter, a Democrat, who was appointed by Mayor Whitney. Their salary is $2,000 a year each and their term two years.

At the Headquarters of the Republican County Committee there was strong conden.

At the Headquarters of the Republican County Committee there was strong condemnation of the careless work of the Board of Elections. No one attaches any political significance to the error, though in any year where there was no defection from the Democratic party, such as the Labor movement is, the Democrata would naturally gain by the increased registry and implied full vote. The Hagublicans express regret that another day small is had for registry on this account, and appress satisfaction with the registry as it seed last Tuesday night.

Chicago, Oct. 20.—In the Criminal Court yesterday State Attorney Grinnell took action which seems to indicate that he is certain that the condemned Anarchists will be executed on Nov. 11. Judge Baker was about sentencing a thief to thirty days' imprisonment, when the State Attorney requested that the sentence be shortened, so that it would expire before the date of the executions, stating that it was desirable to have as few prisoners in the jail at that time as possible. Judge Baker acceded and made the sentence fifteen days. CALIFORNIA PUBLIC MYSTIFIED.

bear forces was nothing more than a guerilla warfare, in which the noisy bids and offers formed a far more conspicuous feature than the transactions actually effected. The bears gave Reading and New Jersey Central a hit and sold them down respectively to 59%

71, but they were careful and not to overstep the mark, and notwithstandthe fact that Cammack was down bright and early in Willard's office they refused to be led into making heavy sales for the short account.

The feeling got abroad that either Gould or those training with him had put on their war-paint and were going into the "hide tanning business." Gould has certainly given the bulls encouragement by his disavowal of any connection with the recent attacks upon the market, and by his constant predictions that those who were venturesome enough to put money into his properties would come out all right in the end. The scalps of the shorts in Manhattan was first sought for and that stock was suddnly put up to 104% from 100% at the close yesterday. Then the shorts in Western Union were given a lively time, the price being advanced to 76% and reports gaining currency that the acquisition of the Commercial Cable by the company would be officially announced shortly. In order to make the punishment of the bears complete. Missouri Pacific rushed up from 87% to 89%. or those training with him had put on their

When the Gould stocks developed genuine strength the bulls began their work in earnest, and everything on the list from New York Central down to Richmond earnest, and everything on the list from New York Central down to Richmond Terminal was taken in hand and advanced 1 a 2 per cent. It was rumored that Armour, Swift, and the other big Chicago dealers in meat products, had come into Stickney's stock-yard scheme, and that in consideration of this, Stickney's Minnesota and Northwestern road would be taken out of the field as a disturber of the peace of the railroad situation in the Northwest. In other words, it was said to foreshadow an early settlement of the fight in that section. This left the bears without a leg to stand on and they tried to cover as best they could, taking care, however, to inform their following that the rise would speedily come to an end and that those who bought now would have to pay dearly for their temerity.

There was a lively borrowing demand for stocks. Lake Shore lent flat a 1-128, Northern Pacific preferred at 1-32, New York Central flat a 1-64 and Chicago, Burlington & Quincy at 1-16 a \( \frac{1}{2} \) per cent. per diem for oall and 5 per cent. for carrying.

SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.] LANCASTER, N. H., Oct. 20 .- The Grand Jury of this county has found an indictment against Dr. W. Seward Webb, sop-in-law of the late William H. Vanderbilt, and Major W. B. Wetmore, both of New York, for overdriving. The occasion of the criminal indictment of the distinguished New Yorkers was the famous drive which they took from the Glen House to the summit of Mount Washington on Sept. 7 last, a distance of eight miles up the steep mountain roadway, which was performed in one hour, nine minutes forty-seven seconds, being the quickest time on record. They rode behind a pair of horses and were accompanied by Mrs. Wetmore and a driver.

Shortly afterwards the citizens became indignant and proposed to prosecute them. Dr. Webb and Major Wetmore left the vicinity, but the driver was arrested and was held for the action of the Grand Jury.

This was the President's speech in reply to Gov. Scay.

I am very glad to be able at the conclusion of a most delightful, and, I hope, improving series of visits throughout the country, to see a little of the State of Alabama, its people and its capital city. I believe that no Southern State has within liself more elements of independent growth and development than Alabama. There is hardly a food product which is not represented in its agriculture. It has within its border abundant forests of useful and valuable timber waiting for its utilization to the needs of man, while its mineral resources, marvellous and inexhaustible, give assurance of wealth and commercial greatness. In the means of transportation your State is hardly less favored. About two-thirds of your counties are bounded or microsceted by rivers navigable or casily made so. Your railroad facilities, aiready great, are constantly increasing, and your outlet to the ocean is found in the largest and finest bay on the Gulf of Mexico. A State thus favored by nature and so profusely bicssed by the gifts of Providence cannot but occapy a commanding position in the union of States which constitute a great nation.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Oct. 20 .- Since the name of Annie Ingraham has been associated witn the identity of the murdered girl at Rahway, many persons here recall the striking resemblance of Annie to the photograph of the victim of the mysterious crime. Ex-Chief Fitzgerald and Detective Gregory returned from their secret mission at 11.9 last night. They refused to make known the result of their search for the alleged murderer of Annie Ingraham, but left the impression that the officers in charge of the Central Police Station at Philadelphia were working that

It is believed that the detective has run down the man who married Annie Ingraham at Bound Brook on the night of Dec. 7, 1886. and who followed her when she fled from him on the 8th to Philadelphia. The marriage was performed by Justice of the Peace Sommers at Bound Brook, who is said

Coroner Eidman fixed the bail at $5,000 and Mr. Boylan signed the papers.
